

The person who can greet can be a safe driving driver

The greetings make good personality

When I drove a car on the Corniche Road in the morning mist, I noticed less cars on the road because of Ramadan. I had enjoyed 10 minutes drive to Japanese school without being annoyed runaway cars and dangerous car chase.

As you know, teachers have welcomed students from the school bus with high touch and lively greeting in the morning and have sent off students with lively greeting in our school.

The greeting is the basics for making good relationship. I would like to introduce an essay taking about importance of greetings.

When I watched Quiz show on television, there was a question from a instructor of driving school. He said he knows the characteristic of person who can drive car safely through his job experience such as promotion of safety drive and improvement of driving techniques.

"Which type of person can drive a car safely?"

A. Cautious person B. Impatient person C. Easy going person D. person who can greet

Which type of person do you think the person who drives a car safely?( You may know the answer from the title of this essay...)

what about A? It is not the answer. Too much cautious is not always good for safety driving.

What about B? It is not the answer too. Impatient person doesn't look around carefully.

C is not the answer. Because easy going person is not good at spot decision.

So the answer is D, Person who can greet drives a car safely.

Why this type of person can drive car safely? Because he/she has paid attention to other people and He/she can think about other people. He/she can also think about other cars. He/she doesn't do reckless driving and selfish driving and never caused car accidents.

In other words, person who can greet is a well-mannered person. Manner is stand for person's sincerity to other people. The greetings make good relationship and good atmosphere. We know it through our daily life.

We can't greet people cordially at the special occasion such as the interview or celebration with daily greeting habit.

The greeting will bring you a lot of good influences in your daily life. Let's greet with clear voice "Ohayou gozaimasu (Good morning)!" "Konnichiwa (Good day)!" and "Konbanwa (Good evening)
